Notes for IAN ESOM FARRIS:

In the Glasgow Scotland area, the Farris name was at one time a very common one. The the Rutherglen parish, a family of Farie has bgeen settle for about six hundred years. The Scotch name of Ferrie, sometimes spelled Farie and Ferrey, has been supposed to be the abbreviation of Ferrier. But most of the opinions are that the name was originally adopted by the one who kept a ferry boat.

In the book "Surnames of Scotland", by Black, the names, Ferres, Ferries, sometimes a corruption of Fergus. Old spellings are: Feres, Ferres, Phires, Pheres, and Ferries. Local usage in Aberdeenshire, Ferris is a contraction of Ferguson. Also, sometimes occuring as Farquharson.

Most of the information on Ian Esom Farris is scant and not completely proven. Therefore, your help in verifying this ancestor is greatly needed.

EMIGRATION:

Ian and his wife, Emily, probably emigrated from Edinburgh, Scotland to the Albemarle region of Carolina between 1663 - 1666. There has been no existing record found to establish the actual year they arrived. But is is known that they were some of the earliest settlers in this area. The family is said to have lived on the Roanoke River, which runs through Virginia and North Carolina. We believe that they lived near the Virginia/Carolina border.

**Note: The brothers actually came about 1781

FARRIS BROTHERS' EDUCATION:

The verbal history that has been handed down states that five Farris brothers left Wales, (Possibly Glomorozon, Wales) to come to America.

It is believed that as the boys grew, they were all sent back to England, Wales or Scotland to further their education, or as part of their business. They returned from Glomorozon, Wales to the Albemarle Colony in 1699. This is probably the reason that Randall Farris and Sandra McIntire's research lists them as "Coming to America from Wales". It is not believed the brothers were born in Wales.

William is thought to have gone to Wilmington, NC and had been ordered by the King to supply the islands off the coast of America. And had a fleet of ships, and the brothers were back "east" on business. Their ship's last port of call was in Wales, and the records show only that their ship came from Wales.

Henry left Glamorgan, Wales to go to Virginia about 1699. It is not know if he had completed his education in Wales or if Glamorgan was the last port of call on the way to America. It is, however, agreed by all researchers that Henry and his brothers landed near Richmond, Virginia and settled there.

Generation No. 2

2. HENRY<sup>2</sup> FARRIS (IAN ESOM<sup>1</sup>)<sup>1</sup> was born Abt. 1680, and died Unknown. He married UNKNOWN. She died Unknown.

Notes for HENRY FARRIS:

Notes from Randall Farris's Genealogy -

Henry Farris is documented in Lunenburg Co., Virginia as being the father of Judith Farris-Smith. Another document states that James Esom Farris is her brother.

Henry owned a tavern in Petersburg, Virginia, on Olds Street. He owned a farm in Halifax Co. Virginia.

May 5, 1761, Lunenburg Co., Virginia - Henry and his brother Peter Farris sold land to David Farris.

**No documents have been found to support the above notes. Sandra McIntire examined the records of Halifax and Lunenburg, counties, Virginia and has not been able to find any of these documents.

ORIGIN OF THE FARRIS FAMILY:

The book "Nation Builders", by Mrs. McPherson, states that Henry's father was from Wales and that Henry was Judith's father. But this has not been proven. There are other theories in regards to his birth, places named are: Scotland, Wales, Virginia and North Carolina.

Information suggests that Henry's son, James Esom Farris, left a record that contain the following remarks:

"My grandfather was Ian Esom Farris, who married Emily Jane Cameron 20 May 1661, in Edinburgh, Scotland and came to the Albemarle colony in 1663."

Another source suggests that the above information was engraved on a piece of leather and framed, and that later, the leather was removed and discarded, and the fram used to make a shadow box. This information came from the Gatliff families in Whitley Co., Kentucky.

This information may have came from a family Bible. Perhaps the Bible that burned with the home of Joseph Dowis Farris, near Walden, Whitley Co., Kentucky. There are three main Farris family researchers that started their research many years ago, most of what is published now, came from their researching. All of these three, at different times have quoted the above information on Ian Esom Farris. There is a possibility that this Bible was passed down from James Esom Farris, to his son, John Farris, to John Isham Farris and then to Joseph Dowis Farris.

Until actual proof of this is found, we will only have to speculate that the above may actually be true.

It is said that one of Henry's descendants possessed a record at one time that indicated his parents came from Scotland and settled near Albemarle Sound, along the Roanoke River, in the Carolina colony about 1663. It is most likely that Henry was born there.

Notes for JAMES ESOM FARRIS:

Lincoln County was in Virginia and later became part of Kentucky.

James settled on Dick's Creek, near Crab Orchard. Life was violent during this period. Two of James's sons, NATHAN FARRIS and ISAAC FARRIS, were killed by Cherokee Indians in January 1790. Earlier in 1786 two other sons, JOHN ESOM FARRIS and ISHAM FARRIS, helped bury the dead after McNitt's Defeat in what is now Levi Jackson Wilderness State Park. MILITARY:

ISHAM FARIS APPLICATION FOR REVOLUTIONARY WAR PENSION

STATE OF KENTUCKY

LAUREL COUNTY JP

On this 9th of October 1842 personally appeared in open court before the County Court of Laurel now sitting Isham Faris a resident of Kentucky in the County of Laurel aged ninety one, who being duly sworn according to law doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the Act of Congress passed June 7, 1832.

That during the Revolutionary War he resided in Halifax County Virginia, and started to move to the now state of Kentucky that on his way he stopped in Botetourt County Virginia; while there news reached there that Lord Cornwallis was overrunning the southern states, that he was running over the country laying it waste and that Gen. Green wanted reinforcements, who was then said to be retreating before Cornwallis.

Col. Crockett, given name not remembered, who commanded in Botetourt called for volunteers, or that two or three companies should be raised by draft to go to the assistance of Gen. Green. How many men he does not remember, but thinks there were two companies if not three that was raised by draft, & volunteers, to serve as he was told sixty days unless sooner discharged. He volunteered under Capt William's company shortly after starting was joined by other companies until they amounted he thinks to about three hundred & fifty or four hundred men they all marched into North Carolina under the command of Col. Crockett.

Shortly after we got in to N.C. they got news that the British light horse and a body of Tories were approaching them, and Col. Crockett retreated about 10 miles in to a mountain part and constructed a kind of fort by fallen timber and remained there ten or 12 days, when they got news that the party had gone to join Cornwallis, When they again marched to try to get to Green and took a circuitous rout to avoid the scouting parties of the British and tories, but after marching two days, they again had to halt and fortify in consequence of news brought to Crockett not to advance, and remained there several days but cant recall how long - they again took a circuitous route and after a days march they again fortified & hearing a large body of torries and British light horse would be down upon them after remaining there four or five days and sending out scouts for provisions they again marched slowly & fortified every night, but all this time Green was so constantly changing his position, that we were at a loss what course to march to meet him, and our march was zig-zag. Some time countermarching - sometimes to the right then to the left that they made but slow progress.

When they had approached within twenty miles of Green they heard he was defeated at Gillord & was retreating to Virginia. Col Crockett commenced a retreat, and on the third day they heard that Green was not badly defeated, but was on his way to Virginia. They fortified here & remained several days to get news what way best to do, but Col. Crockett called a council of officers and it was thought best to march back to Virginia and wait further orders. Col. Crockett then marched back, (but leaving before they got to Va. for their money) and he was marched back by Capt Williams into Botetourt and discharged by Capt. Williams verbally as the whole had received the order by Col, Crockett, to go home and remain in readiness at the moment moving to assist Green if called for, but was not afterwards called for.

On this service he served forty seven days. He got no discharge. The reason why they were not called for, as well as he remembers It was a mistake that Green had retreated to VA.

In the fall and winter of 1781 he moved to the now state of Kentucky and settled at Logan Station in Lincoln County. In the month of April 1782 he entered the service of the state of Virginia under Lt. (some called him Capt) Mathew McClure, who was afterwards killed by the Indians, as an Indian spy for forty days, at the price of $25, the find himself. McClure was regarded by all as empowered by the Gov. of Virginia, or some authority from Va. to employ Indian Spies. He with one other Indian spy, John Dotson, long since dead now directed by McClure to perform our service in the direction of the Cherokee Nation and the head of the Green River, south of the Station.

They served out their term of forty days & all during this time they returned three times to the Station to give the news. In the month of September 1782 he again entered the service of the state of Virginia for forty days at the price of 4/6 per day and find himself, under Col Ben. Logan and again in company of said Dotson also an Indian spy served in the, same section as approved by order of Col. Logan, and during this time they returned to the station from time to time to give the news.

In April 1783 he again entered the service of the state of Virginia as an Indian spy for thirty days by contract with Col. Logan for $1.00 per day and find himself, and again with Dotson served out his time in the same section as approved returning to the settlement twice to give news. The 1st of Oct 1783 he again entered the service of the State of Virginia as an Indian spy by contract with Col. William Whitley who was killed at the battle of the tavern in the late war, for forty days at $1 per day and find himself and served out his term of service in the same section as approved returning to the settlement to give news three times.

Between the time as approved and afterwards in the years 1784 & 85 and 86 he was repeatedly out in pursuit of Indians who stole horses or done mischief in the settlements. He never got any regular discharge in writing. he never received but $30 for all his services being informed the governmant of Va had not sent out funds. He knows of no person now living by whom he can prove his engagements and services.

The reason why he has not applied sooner is that until lately he did not know that any provisions was made for Indian spies for pensions. He truly relinquishes his every claim whatever to a pension or annuity except the present and declares that his name is not on the roll of the agency of any state.

STATE OF KENTUCKY

Laurel County

On the 10th of Oct 1842 John Wise made oath in open court before the county court of Laurel that he is a United States Revolutionary pensioner and eighty seven years of age, that he has known Isam Faris of said county thirty odd years who he supposes to be about ninety years of age and who has this day filed in said court his petition for a pension, that upwards of thirty years ago I've heard him often speak of his services in the old war under Col. Crocket from Botetourt County Va. in N. Carolina, and of his services as an Indian spy in Kentucky, he recollects to have heard him say he had served three or four terms for forty days each in Linclon County Ky. The greatest reliance may be placed in what he states upon oath. Signed this 10th of Oct 1842.

21 May 1959 Thursday newspaper THE SENTINEL-ECHO, London, KY

Russell Magee of Lily, "while strolling through Old Union Cemetery" last Thursday ran across an old field-stone marker for Isom (Isham) Faris giving dates of his birth and death as Jan 6 1751 and March 14 1848, respectively.

Isham Faris was the great-great grandfather of Mrs. J.T. Jones, Ralph Faris of London, Mrs. Curtis Bales of Corbin, and has a great many descendants in many parts of this country.

Mr. Magee suggests that since the sandstone marker cannot last long, and that Mr. Faris deserves a permanent marker, his descendants will probably wish to join in erecting a more appropriate one.

Isham Faris and his brother, John Faris came to Crab Orchard from Virginia in 1773. In 1786 Isham and John were among those who came from Crab Orchard to bury the dead of the McNitt Defeat, and later moved to that section, among the most early settlers in what is now Laurel County.

Notes for GILBERT FARRIS:

Gilbert Farris is the earliest Farris descendant that has been found on our Paternal side. (Remember, he married into another Farris family, that of which we have more information).

Per Sandra Mc Intire: There have been some debates over Gilbert's origin. Some think he may have come from New England, some say he was from closer to home. He first appears in Madison co., Kentucky in 1793, and then again in 1795. He names a son Dudley and a son Thomas. In 1787, there are two Thomas Farris's in Madison Co., Kentucky, Thomas Pheris Jr. and Thomas Pheris, Sr.

Perhaps Gilbert was another brother to Michael and Thomas. It is assumed that Thomas Jr., who is listed in 1787 was Michael's brother, Thomas III. We don't know about Thomas Sr.. Maybe he could be the father of Michael and Thomas III. All of the children of Thomas III are not known, so Gilbert may be connected there.

Notes for SR. JAMES LOVE FARRIS SR.:

Capt. James L. Farris: A due regard for the rights of others, a proper appreciation of what is due himself, and a conscientious discharge of duty, have marked the career of our subject, a prominent citizen of Richmond. He is the son of Joseph I. Farris, a farmer by occupation. The father was born near Crab Orchard, Ky., in 1800, and died in 1862, in Jefferson County, Tenn., where he had settled when our subject was but two years old. Grandfather Isam Farris was born in Virginia, of Scotch descent, and became a pioneer of Kentucky.

James grew up mostly in Jefferson Co., Tennessee, up to his eighteenth birthday. He attended the Burnsville High School, in Yancey County, North Carolina, remaining there for four years. In the spring of 1856 he removed to Ray County, Missouri, where he taught school for a time in the country, and continued in the profession until the spring of 1861. At that time he enlisted in the State service, in what is known as Reeve's regiment, and served for six months in the State Guards. He then enlisted in the Confederate State service, in the Second Missouri Battery, known as Clark's battery, and was chosen First Lieutenant, Churchill Clark being Captain. The battery was on duty in Missouri, and took part in the engagements at Sugar Creek and Pea Ridge, where Capt. Clark was killed. Our subject then became Captain, with which rank he served throughout the war, and was so paroled at Gainesville, Alabama.

After Captain Farris located in Macoupin County, Ill., and there resided from 1865 to 1869, meanwhile teaching school for two years. In 1869 he returned to Ray County, Missouri, and began the practice of his profession at Richmond, being associated with William A. Donaldson. The partnership was formed in the spring of 1869 and terminated in 1872, when Capt. Farris was elected Prosecuting Attorney. In 1874, upon the expiration of his term, he resumed his law practice. In 1875 he was elected a member of the State Constitutional Convention. He was four times elected a member of the State Legislature, serving in sessions Twenty-nine, Thirty-two, Thirty-three and Thirty-six in the General Assembly. For two sessions he was Chairman of the Judiciary Committee and the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform.

Mr. Farris is a staunch Democrat in his political opinions, and is one of the prominent men of the party in this part of the State. Mrs. Farris is a valued member of the Episcopal Church. The family residence is pleasantly located on Shaw Street, and is one of the most comfortable homes in the city.

HISTORY OF RICHMOND, MISSOURI

The City of Richmond was founded for a singular purpose, to be the seat of government for the County of Ray. On January 1, 1821, when Missouri became a state, one of the original fourteen counties was called Ray, and at that time included the entire northwest corner of the state, everything west of the Grand River, and everything north of the Missouri River except the Platte purchase area. It was named after the Honorable John Ray, a state legislator from Howard County. The first county seat was a little village called Bluffton, which was the first village in northwest Missouri. Bluffton was founded by early settlers on the Missouri River just west of the present city of Camden.

The County Court met in a tavern in Bluffton. Soon after statehood, both the state and the county began a long process of locating a permanent seat of government. In the case of the state, Jefferson City was founded, and for the county of Ray, it was the establishment of Richmond. The County Court was of the opinion that a site was needed that would be more centrally located in the Ray land area than Bluffton. At the same time, another process was taking place. As the area of northwest Missouri was being settled, new county boundaries were being drawn. Eventually thirteen counties were formed out of what was originally Ray.

Several options were open for the location of the new town. Only two were seriously considered. One was a 51 acre tract of land near the present town of Rayville. This land was owned by a couple who were prominent citizens of the time, Jeremiah and Polly (Cary) Crowley. The gift of land was actually made and accepted by the County Court, but for some unknown reason, nothing was done to establish the town. After another offer was accepted, the land was deeded back to the Crowley family. This family was yet to play an important role in the business of the establishment of the county seat.

The second option was a tract of land owned by John Wollard, Willard B. Martin, and William Thornton. This offer of land was accepted by the court, and was approved by the voters of the county on August 21, 1827. The land was given for this purpose on May 5, 1827. The court approved, declaring "Wollard's (Wollard) Place" as the permanent county seat on September 24, 1827. A plat was filed on October 22, 1827, and on October 25, 1827, a public auction of lots was held.

The naming of the new city is an interesting story that takes us back to the Crowley family. It was known that when the Crowley's donated the Rayville land, Polly Crowley was asked what the new town should be called. She preferred the name of Richmond, after the capital city of Virginia, because both she and her husband were raised close to that city. The new county seat was named Richmond because of her suggestion, even though it was not located where she and her husband wanted it. It is believed the name was chosen out of respect for the Crowleys after their generous offer of land had been rejected.

Richmond was laid out along a pattern which is common for county seat towns in the rural Midwest. The courthouse is at the center of the town, with the major business district around the four sides of the "square". This has served for many years as the focal point of government, business, and travel. It is only in recent years that this model has been changed, with the establishment of both business and public buildings on the extremities of the city.

CIVIL WAR RECORD OF GILBERT HARMON FARRIS

The following information came from the civil war pension file of Gilbert H. Farris. The story has been passed down that Gilbert and two of his brothers joined the service together during the Civil War, but that Gilbert is the only one that came back from the war. I have found two other Farris's that joined the same regiment as Gilbert and have ordered the military files, but have not yet received them. They are Joseph and James Farris. More research is needed to verify they are indeed the brothers we are searching for.

From Gilbert's pension file we learn that on August 15, 1864, while retreating from General Price's forces, Gilbert was injured. This took place at what was then called "Nigger Wool Swamp", near Bloomfield, Missouri. The company was on retreat and a wagon had become stuck in the mud. While trying to pry the wagon out, Gilbert fell on his arm and was injured. He was then put into an ambulance wagon, which soon broke down. Then he was placed on a horse. The horse jumped a ditch with him and threw him onto the saddle horn, striking him in the bowels. This injury caused him problems for the rest of his life. He was taken off duty for about three weeks.

Nigger Wool Swamp, so called because of the thick moss that covered everything in it, was also known as "The Great Mingo". It was a 3 foot wide, plank road built about 1860. It stretched 12 miles across the swamp, which consisted of water, grass, buck brush and cane. The depth throughout was from knee high to 20 feet deep. The plank road crossed from Grey's Ridge to Morehouse.

The plank road was destroyed during the Civil War and was rebuilt as a pole road in 1873. It opened for foot traffic January 1878.

Wilson County Kansas

"The Wilson County Citizen" newspaper, from July 20, 1883, posted a list of Union Soldiers

Living in Wilson county. Under the state of Missouri, you will find Gilbert Farris, Company G., 11th and 2nd Missouri Cavalry. His residence at that time was Buffalo, Wilson Co., Kansas.

A record has also been found that Gilbert was in Capt. Dozes' Independent Company, Sullivan County Missouri Home Guards.

Winchester was the 1st city in Scott County, Illinois and was organized November 13, 1876. The first school house was a log cabin southeast of where Exeter now is. The first locomotive came to Winchester October 1869.

When they packed up the family and moved by covered wagon to Idaho. Son, George Farris, did not move with them. He stayed in Kansas.

Previous researchers state that Gilbert was born in Eminence, Woodson Co. Kansas. This county did not exist until 1855. This area would have been part of Missouri Territory and also Indian Territory. It is quite possible he was born in Fountain Co, Indiana, as his father is listed in that census for 1830. His Grandfather, Gilbert Farris was still living in Knox Co., Ky. in 1830. His children stated in several census records that his birth was Kentucky. But this information was not always known to whomever the census take spoke to on that day.

Notes for CATHERINE POLITE:

When Gilbert left for the Civil War, Catherine's sister, Mattie Polite came to Greencastle, Missouri to stay with Catherine. While living there she became engaged to a Missourian in the service who was later reported "missing and unaccounted for in battle". Sorrowing and homesick, after a year's absence from Illinois, she returned to Scott County in a covered wagon.

There is a headstone in the Fairview Cemetary in Grangeville, Idaho for Catherine and Gilbert. Catherine is not buried there. There are several affidavits from her children in Gilbert's Civil War Pension File stating that Catherine died near Buffalo, Kansas in December 1887. Gilbert remarried in 1889 and then moved to Idaho, so there is no way Catherine is buried at Fairview Cemetery.

When family members purchased the headstone for Gilbert and Catherine, they were not aware that she was not buried there. There were no records of the burials, just a record of the purchase of the plots. So it was just assumed that she was buried there. I am still researching, trying to find her burial in Kansas.

OBITUARY

FUNERAL MONDAY FOR M.T. FARRIS

Pioneer Called Saturday At Lewiston After Long, Active Life

The life of one of central Idaho's outstanding pioneer characters came to an end at 1:05 Saturday morning with the passing of Major T. Farris at St. Joseph's hospital in Lewiston. After enjoying unusually good health throughout his life, he became ill only nine days before with an abdominal disorder and it soon was evident to his attending physicians that there could be little hope for his recovery. All of his children were at his bedside when the end came.

A resident of central Idaho since 1890, Mr. Farris enjoyed and endured all the experiences of the early days of the area, farming and freighting in the South Fork country long before the opening of the Nez Perce reservation. A man of endless energy and vitality, he was never idle and began each task with a vigor that characterized him. In pursuing both his work and pleasure he ranged wide over the central Idaho country gaining a wide acquaintance - few if any of whom could not be counted as his friends. He refused even to let old age handicap his activity and continued to carry on with manual work until his last illness, in spite of the fact that his success in life would have permitted his retirement many years ago. Until 1944 he worked regularly in the harvest season and it was uncommon to find any entertainment within a 50-mile radius at which he was not an enthusiastic participant.

Born in 1868 in Illinois, Mr. Farris heeded the words "Go west" and came to Idaho as a young man locating first at Clearwater. After a few years there he moved to Winona in 1893 and the following year he was married to Selena Benoy of Grangeville. They were successful in farming in that community and reared their four children there. In 1922 they bought the Curtis Miller place two and a half miles northeast of Nezperce where their successful operations continued. Mrs. Farris passed away in 1938. Mr. Farris always took an active interest in community affairs, serving several terms as commissioner of Lewis county. Two years ago he moved to Lewiston where he had since been employed by Bob Wright.

Funeral services were held at two o'clock Monday afternoon at the community church in Nezperce where the building was filled to capacity with old friends who had come to pay their last respects to the deceased. Rev. Harry Slick of Spokane delivered the sermon and beautiful vocal trio numbers were rendered by Leslie Baskett; Mrs. Claude Miller and Miss Louise Miller. Active pallbearers were George Thomas, Joe Luz, Glen Miller, Gay Miller, Joe Stach and Joe Barbee. Honorary pallbearers were G.C. Pennell, S.L. Stapleton, Maurice Younger, W.R. Emerson, Lew Clark and Martin Lux. Local Odd Fellows, of which lodge he was a veteran member, attended in a body. Interment was in the local cemetery.

Surviving the deceased are three daughters and a son. Mrs. Harry Wise and Mrs. Lawrence Sather, Spokane; Mrs. Roy Akers, Portland and Garlin Farris, Nezperce; two sisters, Mrs. Sam McKenzie of Portland and Mrs. Laura Blakely, Walla Walla; five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Card of Thanks

For the many kindnesses and sympathy extended to us during our recent bereavement we wish to express our sincere appreciation.

The M.T. Farris Family

Major came out west when he was about 18 years old. He settled on the Camas Prairie in 1893. He farmed on the prairie near Winona until about 1921 when he moved his family 1 1/2 miles north of Nezperce.

Major was known to be able to "hold his own" in a good fight. He attended dances at the dance hall outside of Kooskia, Idaho, going towards Lolo Montana. He was somewhat of the "Sheriff" over the dances.

He umpired many Baseball games. He served on the Board of Directors of the Nezperce Rochdale Company, was County Commissioner, a Rodeo Judge and Deputy Sheriff. He was also an avid sports fan, enjoyed hunting and was quite the outdoorsman.

WEDDING BELLS RING AGAIN

Garlin Farris and Miss Agatha Stapleton Married at Moscow Last Friday

Garlin Farris and Miss Agatha Stapleton, two popular and well known young people of this city were united in marriage last Friday afternoon at Moscow by Probate Judge Adrian Nelson of that city. Miss Ilah Harris of Nezperce and Miss Edith Wright of Moscow were the witnesses.

Although the wedding was not altogether unexpected, it came somewhat as a surprise at the present time due to the fact that Miss Stapleton had enrolled as a student in the University of Idaho and at the time was attending school there, and no information had previously been given out concerning it.

The bride is the pretty and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S.L. Stapleton, thrifty farmers in this district. She received her grammar and high school education in the Nezperce Public schools and was always a popular member of that student body. She was attending the University of Idaho at the time of the wedding. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. M.T. Farris, highly respected farmers of northeast of town, who homesteaded in the Winona district and moved to Nezperce several years ago. He has been successfully engaged in farming for some time. The newlyweds are now at home at the Farris ranch and plan to continue their residence and occupation in this district. Sincere congratulations and best wishes for a long and prosperous married life are extended the happy couple by a great number of friends in this community.

Vivian and Clyde lived together for quite some time, it is unsure if they were ever legally married.

She was born July 06, 1921 in Stites, Idaho Co., Idaho, and died November 19, 2000 in Lewiston, Nezperce Co., Idaho.

Notes for REX ALONZO FARRIS:

In 1950 he and Reta moved to Craigmont, Idaho. There they owned and operated the Prairie Club and Cafe until 1955. In 1955 he began his career in law enforcement as a Craigmont city marshal. After serving for 10 years there he became a deputy for the Lewis County Sheriff's Department. In 1967 he was appointed Sheriff of Lewis County and continued in that capacity until April 13, 1981, when he retired after 25 years in Law Enforcement. They moved to Lewiston in 1982.

Rex was a member of Faith Tabernacle Church. His hobbies were fishing and camping.

There is a new book, "Lawmen - The History of Idaho Sheriffs" by Linda Hopfenbeck, which has a bit of information about Rex.

* notes from conversation with Betty Farris Litchfield - 2003

Rex went to California when he was young. He called his mother collect from there, telling her how homesick he was and that he would like for her to send him money to come home. She told him no, so he hitchhiked all the way home to Idaho.

Military History of Rex Farris

Information received from his daughter, Joan Farris VanHorn

Rex did not enlist, but rather was drafted into the U.S. Army Air Forces (Corps) . He served from Dec. 29, 1942 to September 1, 1945 in Africa, China, Burma and India, with the Flying Tigers 14th Air Force. He attained the rank of Technical Sergeant. He was an Armorer Gunner on a B-25.

He received the following decorations:

Asiatic Pacific Theater Ribbon with 1 Bronze Star

Purple Heart

3 Overseas Bars

Good Conduct Medal

Aerial Gunner Badge

European-Africa Middle East Theater Ribbon

Wounds received in action included:

Head injury and exposure in the Mediterranean Area, November 1943. These injuries were probably received at the time the troop transport ship was crossing the Mediterranean Sea and the ship was bombed and sank. He spent nine hours in the water waiting to be rescued. He would sometimes talk about how he could smell the flesh of men who had been burned when the ship was struck. Soldiers were trying to get off the ship. They were all moving to the low side that was sinking. Rex and another guy moved to the top side that was sticking up in the air. They were going to crawl down a rope to the water to avoid being sucked under. Rex went down first, and the other guy couldn't hang on to the rope and fell, causing Rex to be pushed down the rope. He said it caused the skin on his hands to be peeled off when the weight of the other guy fell on him.

Rex wouldn't go swimming for years. He always said he spent enough time in the water. Finally, after we were grown, he got so he would go in the Selway River with us when we went camping.

His airplane was also shot down over China. They knew they were behind enemy lines, so they had to stay hidden and walk to safety. That was a scary time for him. He was honorably discharged on Dec. 29, 1942.

Notes for PAULA JEAN BATEMAN:

Lewiston Morning Tribune - Wednesday, July 11, 2007

Paula Jean Farris, formerly of Nezperce, passed away Saturday, July 7, 2007, from complications related to diabetes and cancer.

Paula was born May 3, 1949, in Cottonwood to Art and Jean Bateman.

Paula spent the first part of her childhood in the Melrose/Reubens area and Craigmont before becoming a longtime resident of Nezperce.

Paula graduated from Nezperce High School in 1967 and then attended Lewis-Clark State College for four years, graduating in 1971 with her Bachelor's Degree in Elementary Education. Paula began her teaching career in Craigmont, where she taught for three years. She then taught the third grade at Nezperce Elementary School for six years.

Paula married Howard T. Farris May 11, 1973. Howard and Paula had two children, Jeffrey T. Farris born in 1978 and Haley J. Farris Gibson born in 1982.

Paula was always very active, she had many interests and was never afraid to try something new. She was very crafty, an avid seamstress and painter, her artistic side was apparent in everything she did.

While Paula's children were quite the handful, she still managed to work many jobs in the Nezperce area. She was a dispatcher at the Lewis County Sheriff's Office, worked with special needs children at Nezperce Elementary School, and substituted at the high school. She was a volunteer EMT, cooked for the Nezperce Senior Center, and did custom upholstery for the area farmers.

Paula lived in Nezperce until 2000, when she and Howard decided to settle in Lewiston.

In March 2001, she became the proud grandma to Micaela and Macenzie Farris, whom she loved dearly.

Paula is survived by her husband, Howard T. Farris of Lewiston; son, Jeffrey T. Farris and wife Amy of Grangeville; daughter, Haley J. Gibson and husband Javon of Lewiston; two beautiful granddaughters, Micaela and Macenzie Farris of Grangeville; a sister, Kathy Owen of Clarkston; brothers, Steve Bateman of Nezperce, and Bill Bateman of Boise; and many other family members and friends in the area.

At Paula's request cremation has taken place and a celebration of her life will be at Spaulding Park at a later date.

Any memorial donations may be sent to the Grangeville Health and Rehabilitation Center. A special thanks to their caring and supportive staff.
