BULLDOGS GO THRU GAMES UNDEFEATED

The Grangeville Bulldogs went through the tournament undefeated, playing all contesting teams except Ferdinand and Nezperce, and Cottonwood twice, to end champions of the B-class Prairie district. Cottonwood was the runner-up team of the tournament and these two teams will represent the sub-district at the district tourney to be held in Lewiston next week. Grangeville and Craigmont tied for the sportsmanship trophy, and Craigmont was awarded the tournament basketball, for third place rating.

After Saturday night's game, G. W. (Gib) Eimers, on behalf of the Grangeville Chamber of Commerce, presented the awards to the team captains. Roy Brown, Bulldogs' captain received the awards for his team mates, offering the sportsmanship trophy on hand to Craigmont. A similar one will be obtained for Grangeville. The different teams voted on who should receive the sportsmanship trophy.

Bob Duclos and Don Spencer, Cottonwood co-captains accepted the runner-up award for the Mustangs. Dale Vallem, Craigmont captain, the tournament ball for his team.

The following accounts of each game were prepared by Chet Arnszen, special Free Press reporter assigned to the tournament:

Bulldogs Take Mustangs

The Grangeville Bulldogs rolled by the Cottonwood Mustangs to win a decisive 45-23 victory the second game Monday. The Bulldogs took the lead early in opening section and never relinquished, and were never in danger.

Although the Mustangs had the taller team, the Bulldogs took the majority of the rebounds off the backboards. The Cottonwood boys had determination and spirit, but had difficulty hitting the basket.

TOOTIN' ALL DAY

Friday morning, Grangeville High School Band students left for Craigmont to participate in the all district band. The band is composed of students from 9 schools.

The students who attended from Grangeville are: Stan Pearson, Ted Jones, Dick Troeh, Donna Shively, Alvin Henderson, Caroline Bailey, Jack Hazelbaker, Elaine Smith, Esther Wine, Bonnie Dye, and Rosalie Space.

The students register from 9:00 to 9:30 a.m. The rehearsal is from 9:30 to 11:45 and from 1:30 to 4:00 in the afternoon. A concert is given the same night in the gym.

PRE-SCHOOL CENSUS

Due to the possibilities of having a new school, the state asked Grangeville to take a census of all pre-school children from the ages 0 to 6 years.

Mr. Vopat asked the Journalism class to make the survey. The town and bus routes were divided into districts and each member of the class was assigned a district. The class was dismissed at 3 o'clock on Friday and Monday. Tuesday, the whole afternoon was given for the project.

Tootin' and Rootin'

Tootin' and rootin' every night for G.H.S. was the Grangeville Pep Band. Playing snappy marches and novelty tunes, the Pep Band under the direction of Stan Pearson, Norman Henderson and Don McKinley kept the crowd peppy and cheering for their favorite teams to win.

It takes quite a lot of spirit and stamina to play and shout every night so let's give our Pep Band the Credit it is due.

Our cheer-leaders, Darlene Todhunter, Evelyn Johnson and Hugh Keith also put out a lot of time and energy to cheer our team on to Victory. Let's all get behind them and help to cheer G.H.S. boys on to victory again, at Lewiston and State.

Basketball Player Of the Week

Sharing the spotlight and closing this column are two of our most reliable players: Aaron Hutchins and Glenn Simons.

Aaron is a Junior, 5' 9" tall and plays forward. This is his first year on the "A" squad but has had past experience on the "B" squad. He's lettered in football and is a member of Boy's "G" Club.

Glenn Simons seems to inherit the basketball spirit from his brother, Lloyd, who drove our team to many victories last year. Glenn is a Sophomore and has had past experience on the "B" squad. The 5' 9" spitfire has played on our football and basketball teams and has lettered in baseball.

Thanks to Debaters

The Debating Society is to be thanked for the good job they did in supporting the Polio Drive. They put a lot of hard work into making posters, writing slogans, and poems with music.

The Junior Class won the contest in high school by having the highest percentage, which was 96 cents per person. The eighth grade won the grade and junior high contest.

All the money collected went to the Polio Drive in our county.

GIRLS EXCHANGE APRONS FOR HAMMERS AND SAWS

The last six weeks of school, the Advanced Home Economics Class will exchange their aprons for hammers and saws. Some of the girls will make lamps and some nick nack shelves. They are also going to learn to make repairs around the home. Mr. Williams will teach the girls third period while Miss Bjorkland will take over Mr. Williams third period Health Class.

KNOW YOUR BUSINESSMEN

This is about a very friendly family who has resided in Grangeville for several years. They own their own business. About two years ago, they remodeled their store and enlarged it. In this store is sold many different home appliances. They also have many kinds of building materials. Can you guess who this business man is?

The answer to last week's know your business man was Mr. and Mrs. Tom Shinnick.

HOMEWORK

In this great world of H bombs and push buttons, we still have to do homework! Yes, but what is homework? Some dictionaries don't even have the word. Most of us believe it is work assigned by a teacher for the next day, usually written work.

Some teachers really believe in homework and pile it on a foot deep. Other teachers, usually younger than "Homework Teachers", believe that we do enough studying in school without doing it at home, too. Maybe they remember how they hated it when they were in high school.

There are inventions to make most drudgery chores easier in the home, for instance: dish washers, automatic ironers, washers, sewing machines, vacuum cleaners and many others. Why doesn't someone invent a machine to do homework?

Does everyone do homework? I should say not, maybe it was assigned but usually only a half or maybe three quarters of the class have it done to hand in the next day. What good does this do the whole class? If the work is done in school the whole class will get the benefit and therefore better grades.

Has there ever been found a person who likes homework? If you like this drudgery work, write us a letter, we'd like to hear from you.

Fads 'N Fashions

It seems the scarves have taken the school fashions by storm. Most of the girls' necks are decked with stripped, plain and polka dot scarves of one shape or another. The girls are getting to be as good at tying bows and knots as the boys.

Well, girls, lets all start knitting. If we do as good a job as Virginia Wagner did, it would certainly be worth our while. That fushia cardigan she has been wearing is the latest product. Quite a few of the G.H.S. girls are knitting sweaters and socks of all kinds and colors.

Look! No hair, well not quite, but just about. The short (when I say short, I mean short) hair styles have arrived here at last. Barbara Hibler and Argyle Lester have very cute bobs and Beverly Atkins joined the fashion a little later.

Scatter pins are still the rage, too. Many of the girls are wearing little bows, figures and animals of all kinds.

Rings are used by some of the girls to hold their scarves in place. Just like regular boy scouts.

The G.H.S. boys are sporting all kinds of shirts with zippers down the front. The zippers seem to run all different directions, too.

SHAVINGS

Under the able direction of Mr. Wessels, the Literature class is putting out a 37 page magazine called Shavings. It will feature Home Talent Articles under the association of seven student directors.

The first publication of the magazine was Monday, February 27. The class, as of now, has not decided what price will be charged for each issue.

It's A Date

If you're gonna be wise as Plato,
On the beam like Emily Post—
Remember that the heartbeat hates
A girl who is inclined to boast—
We'd like to know, sure as shooting
What you gals really do.

While we wait downstairs for hours
'Til the eternal Primpings through!
If you have a date for bowling
Or plan to glide or roller skate,
Please don't wear that slinky satin
Be a sport about your date.

There's nothing worse than girls who prattle

About Tom or Henry, Jack or Chick,

Or all those other slush amours
When you're with a guy named
Dick.

Honest, we know you're not Becall
Or even Hedy—the great Lamarr,
So please, don't look bored with it all

An eager-beaver, you'd really star!
And if we do casually mention,
How many batters we've struck out,
Please don't say "How bad for Lover!"

Try to know what it's all about!
If you're the girl for whom the bell
tolls,

Don't let it ever bother you,
Because we guys respect you for it
No matter what we say or do.

But most of all, keep on laughing,
And talk of little things that rate,
For we think about you long, long after

We've both decided—"IT'S A DATE."

Leave us face it, you slick chicks—
Mad pash of the moment is due at eight.

Let's sit down and talk it over,
To see how many ways you can rate.

How about those awful moments,
When Lochinvar is at your door?
Make him feel at ease with the family,

On this point you'll surely score.
There are times when he'll ask you,
What you'd really like to do,
Think first of our hero's wallet,
From there on in, you'll follow through.

Then there's the problem of dinner
What dainty morsels you're going to bite—

Order what you really want to,
But don't read that menu from the right.

Sure it's fun to go out dancing,
But sometimes you become a bore,
When you look at other people
Or keep staring at the floor!
I guess a fellow dislikes most,
Those "table make-up girls"

Who never seek a powder room
To comb their messed up curls.

If a fellow wants a goodnight kiss,
And you really object, pet
Tell him in a subtle way
Some other time—not yet!

With these few hints you'll surely see

That you're really good-time bait,
The Don Ameche will jingle on
To find out if—"IT'S A DATE."

Halitosis or Dandruff

Resolved: that halitosis is a greater menace to our country than dandruff; was the question under debate when the Debating Society gave their first assembly, Feb. 14.

Chairman, Charles Holt, introduced the teams as follows: affirmative: Glen Hosley and Virginia Wagner; negative: Franklin Johnson and Esther Wine. The two boys gave rebuttal speeches. After the debate, Esther gave a short talk thanking everyone for supporting the Polio Drive. A pep assembly followed immediately afterwards, we learned a few new yells. Watch for the next assembly sponsored by Debate Club.

Friendly Birds

Man, despite all his efforts, would lose in his fight against insects if it were not for his feathered friends, the birds. Loyal soldiers in this winged army include the downy woodpecker, the nuthatch, the bluebird, crow blackbird, kingbird, swallow, sparrow, wren, chickadee and jay.

BULLDOGS GO THRU

Grangeville-Greencreek

The Grangeville Bulldogs rolled past the Greencreek Tigers in the second game Tuesday night and emerged victoriously by a 46-28 score.

The first quarter marked close, even play with the lead changing hands several times. Greencreek however managed to stay at the head of a 12-11 first quarter score. Two quick field goals by Hosley put the Bulldogs in the lead early in the second quarter. From there on the Bulldogs remained in the lead for a 23-15 half-time and 29-18 third quarter.

In the second contest Thursday evening the Bulldogs slipped by the Craigmont team 46-42 and assured themselves a place in the finals. The score was tied nine times and neither team held more than a 6-point lead at any time during the contest. It was one of the most exciting games of the tournament.

The Cougars broke a tie late in the first period to lead 11-10 at the close of the quarter. The score was tied 5 times in the second quarter, but the Bulldogs were leading 29-25 at half-time.

The Grangeville team held the lead throughout the last half. Two men were fouled out by each team. Craigmont made a desperate effort, when Hosley left the game, with 5 minutes to go, but the Bulldogs held fast.

What New Invention Do You Think Should Be Invented and for What Purpose?

Elaine Smith—Something to counteract the H-Bomb.

Rosalie Space—A machine that keeps teachers from giving any more school work this year.

Rich Willey—A machine that would play my horn in band.

Ruthie Vedder—A machine that would give Mr. Wessels Antest serum.

Harvey Nail—An automatic machine that goes around the rooms instead of these Roving Reporters.

Richard Compton—An electric peapaler.

Jerry Flemming—A machine that makes A. H. Olsen do our Geometry assignments.

Evelyn Johnson—A machine that will hit Roy on the shoulder every time he beats!! me.

Mary Ellen Cash—A machine that will do my bookkeeping (Correctly).

Tommy Eimers—A machine that will do homework.

Art Wright—A machine that goes out to McDonald's faster and only costs about 1/20 as much to operate. Why I want this is cause I want to do things in a hurry.

Norm Henderson—A pair of glasses that makes all boys ugly except me, I would give Ruth a pair.

Headache "Cures"

Among the "magical" cures for headache, a frequent symptom of poor eyesight, were: the binding around the head of a snakeskin or a rope by which a man had been hanged; the grasping in the hand of scraped norse-radish, and the snuffing of powder made from dried moss found growing on a human skull
