GOGGLES

Sharon wrote to her friend:
"I could go with him until something better comes along, but what if something better comes along and I'm as me going with him?"

Shirley Lathan to friend
"I just love charge accounts, they sure go farther than money."

Sharon wrote to her best friend: "I almost swoon when Billy takes me in his arms and tells me how wonderful he is."

Mrs. Jordan to Karen:
"You can learn to cook
when prices come down food is too expensive to buy."

THE ROOT OF ALL EVIL

If a person lives too long, he is likely to want to live longer, but if a person dies young, he will wish he was alive again. On the other hand if a person lives too long, he'll wish he could start all over again, and if a person dies while he has just made his millions he is liable to be sulky, and leave it all to the dog. If the dog is an old dog, he'll worry for fear he'll die before he spends it all, and die of worry. If it is a young dog, he'll worry because he's not sure he'll spend it the right way, and also die of worry. Then his lawyer will die of worry about what to do with the money his dog left. The lawyer's wife will die because she doesn't want to live without her husband, and her twelve kids will die because there was no one to feed them. Then the janitor will find the money and burn it to keep other people from dying. Then his wife dies because he burned all that money, and he'll die because he killed his wife. So you see, money is the root of all evil. So if you have any, throw it away quick, before it kills all of us. Incidentally, I'll carry it to the City Dump for you. After all, I don't want anyone to be killed, because I wouldn't take his money.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Since the football season is over, everyone is looking forward to the start of basketball. Why don't we all make an early New Year's resolution and promise to support out teams the very best we can.

By this, I mean let's start out by showing that G.H.S. is a school that everyone can be proud of.
If everyone will really get out and support the team, we can achieve this.

By supporting the team
we can do several things.
(1) Let the Pep Band play at all the home games and at most, if not all, of the out of town games.
(2) Everyone support our team at each game by getting out and showing our worth. Not only at the home games, but at the out of town ones. (3)
Last but not least is sportsmanship. If everyone will get out and show the best sportsmanship possible, I believe that G.H.S. will be a school that everyone will be proud of.

Sincerely,

Nancy West

The original mistake was inventing the calendar.
This led, in due course,
to having Mondays.

Parents who never strip their children in anger probably can't run fast enough.

SWEATER DANCE

The annual Sophomore Sweater Dance was held in the old gym Nov. 14th, at 8:00.

The decorations were extremely attractive and everyone could tell that there had been lots of work put into it.

Sally Jessup won the prize for the best looking girls sweater. Jim Hardin won the prize for the best looking boy's sweater. Mary Kay Dufur and Jim Yates won the prizes for the best matching couples sweater.

There was a large turn out and everyone had lots of fun.

"Is that you, Mama?" said the baby porcupine as he backed into a cactus plant.

Van: "Last week my uncle kicked the bucket."
 Von: "Oh, I'm awfully sorry!"
 Van: "Why? He didn't hurt his foot much!"

Farmer Zeke: "Quite a storm last night. Damage your barn any?"
 Farmer Squeak: "Dunno, haven't found it yet."

Second Grader: "I've grown a lot since last year, teacher."
 Teacher: "Grown, Jimmy, grown."
 Jimmy: "Why should I grow, I don't hurt nowhere."

"NICE STOP."

WHAT IF

We had only three years of high school.

We didn't have to have book reports.

There weren't any upper-classmen.

There was no such thing as homework.

Time stood still.

Boys had long curls and girls had crewcuts.

All boys had canary-yellow convertibles.

Study hall was quiet.

Everyone chewed gum all the time.

He: "I'm so hungry I could eat a horse!"

Waiter: "Then you'll enjoy our steaks sir."

WHAT HAPPENED

TO?

Mr. Bunting's map pointer?

Our nice weather?

The fire Wednesday Nov. 19 (fire drill)?

Our spring clothes?

Marlene Walker's slim figure in the Jr. Play?

The couples at the dances?

The prehistoric drawings and rocks in the hall?

Our uncrowded halls of the good old days?

CALENDAR

19--Grade school Christmas pageant.

22--High School Candle-light Concert.

23--P.T.A. meeting.

There will be another basketball game here on December 9. Our Varsity and Junior Varsity will play Orofino.

There will be no December Informal Informer.

Bill: "What kind of dog is that one?"

Will: "He's a police dog."

Bill: "He certainly doesn't look like one."

Will: "Naturally, he's in the secret service."

Judge: "Have you ever been up before me?"

Defendant: "I don't know your honor. What time do you get up?"

"A cheese on whole wheat would go good right now"

SAY

What would Pat Ladderout look like with blonde hair?

What if Don DeArmond had straight hair?

What if Jeanette Howell and Lowell Jarvis didn't have library together?

What would happen if we had quiet study halls?

What would happen if G.H.S. boys didn't have jalopies to run around in?

What if Cocoa Trout was 6 ft. tall?

What if G.H.S. didn't have a library for the certain students to play around in?

What if the assignments in Algebra were short?

What if 6th period study hall students got to speak as long as they wanted!

What if Sharon Hupe was Gene Nelson's dancing partner?

What if Joan Moore had a shape like Agnes Moorehead.

What would happen if Gary Andrews had the same troubles as Archie Andrews???

What would it be like if Harry Hart was a blonde??

Census Taker (in mountain section): "What is your husband's average income?"
Wife: "Oh, around midnight. I reckon."
